

Adopt an Italian student!

Dear visitor,

*the Italian government is destroying our universities, cutting funds by more than 8% of the total budget, which is already one of the lowest in Europe. This means that in order to keep the universities alive our tuition fees will be more than doubled in the next few years. Since this will severely limit access of talented students to the universities, we are looking for hospitality in a more civilized country, where study is still a right.

Please, pass the word on!
